Mayor Dunne Says He Will Not Stand Any More Fooling With The Strikers.

HE MEANS BUSINESS AT LAST

Calls Conference Of Strikers' Committee And Tells Them To Stop All Further Spreading Of The Strike.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.] Chicago, May 16.—President, Shea and President Dold and a committee representing the teamsters had a conference with Mayor Dunne this morning at the latter's request. The mayor asked the labor leaders not to spread the strike and to use every effort to prevent further disturbances, pending the mayor's effort to bring about arbitration through the medium of the council committee which meets today. The mayor told the leaders if the strike was extended it would immediately lead to bringing troops here. He said he was determined to preserve order at any cost. Several hundred strike-breakers arrived from St. Louis this morning and a hundred additional policemen went out with the employers' wagons as a guard. At the request of the liverymen Mayor Dunne promised to revoke the license of any cabman who refused to carry passengers to the strike-bound stores.

Arbitration Is Demanded.

At a conference in the Rector building the lumber dealers named next Thursday as the last day of truce. By that time, according to the resolutions, the teamsters must explain why they will not permit deliveries to the "boycotted" houses. This demand applies to the lumber teamsters alone. The lumbermen made three points in their resolutions. The first was that the lumber drivers are breaking contracts in refusing to make deliveries; the second, that the contracts forbid sympathetic strikes; and, lastly, they pointed out that by the terms of the agreement with the union, every kind of dispute must be submitted to arbitration before a strike is called.

"We have asked the teamsters either to deliver by Thursday or to submit to arbitration their justification in refusing," said a leading lumberman.

Teamsters Will Stand Pat.

The text of the lumbermen's resolution was handed, after the meeting of the teamsters' joint council, to President Shea. He replied that the action of the lumber dealers would make no difference, and that the teamsters will continue to "stand pat" as before.

President Edward Hines of the Lumbermen's association conferred with Shea and Edward Mullins, business agent of the Lumber Drivers' union, in a final effort to avoid the impending trouble. The meeting did not change the situation.

Besides "turning down" the team owners the teamsters' council also scorned the demands of the Joint Liverymen's association. The liverymen wanted permission for their cab drivers to haul "fares" to the doors of the State street department stores instead

ROOSEVELT IS TO END THE TROUBLE OF DIPLOMATS

May Allow Bowen To Retire And Send Loomis To Some Foreign Country.

Washington, May 16.—A speedy ending of the Loomis-Bowen controversy is promised. The outcome of the charges and countercharges probably will be the retirement of Mr. Bowen from the diplomatic service and the assignment of Mr. Loomis to a diplomatic post abroad.

The president received from Mr. Bowen a verbal explanation of his case. It is understood Mr. Bowen said that if he had made a mistake it was one of the head and not of the heart. Assistant Secretary Loomis' explanation of the Bowen charges is reported to be satisfactory to the president, who has gone over the papers with Secretary Taft, the latter sitting as judge in the quarrel. Mr. Loomis seems to have well established the facts concerning the alleged payment of $10,000 by an asphalt company.

Loomis Denies Taking Fee.

He has produced evidence to show that his transaction with the company was not the acceptance of a fee for services rendered, but purely an exchange transaction.

Secretary Loomis has preferred countercharges against Mr. Bowen which, in official life, are serious. He alleges that the former minister to Venezuela incurred the newspaper at-of to a point a half block away. "If a man wants to ride to the Fair or to any other store," said President Shea, "he probably will have to walk."

To show that ostensibly, at least, they were "peaceably inclined," the teamsters responded to Mayor Dunne's request for a meeting with the new commission created by the city council. The teamsters said that they were anxious to avoid a spread of the strike, and that they would "go as far as the employers" to confine the struggle within its present limits.

Will Investigate the Cause.

One of the first things Mr. Gompers will do when he reaches Chicago, it is said, will be to investigate the underlying causes for the teamsters' strike. His action thereafter will depend upon the result of his inquiries.

While it was erroneously reported that the executive board of the American Federation of Labor also will be summoned here, it nevertheless is true that President Gompers will be with in easy reach of several members upon whom he is accustomed to place much reliance. Mr. Mitchell is one of these.

In Washington President Gompers said he did not believe it would be necessary to call a conference of the national executive committee. This does not preclude, however, the holding of private conferences.

Gompers Appeals for Aid.

President Gompers has issued a call upon organized labor of the United States for funds to support the strike. The appeal was sent out with the ratification of the executive council of the American federation.

After stating that there are 5,000 teamsters on strike in Chicago, and that the Employers' association, together with the other employers, is trying to crush out the teamsters' organization, the appeal says:

"Application has been made to the executive council of the American Federation of Labor to send out this appeal, and the same has been approved. It is earnestly requested that all unions—international, state, central and local—contribute such moral and financial assistance at the earliest moment that each organization is in position to make."

Meanwhile the members of the executive committee of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters had been summoned here.

Senator Stevens Offers Amendment That The Commission Be Elected, Not Appointed, As Present Bill Purports.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., May 16.—The railroad rate commission bill came up in the senate today for advancement to engrossment and third reading, but was re-referred on the motion of Senator Hatten to the committee on railroads for the purpose of making some minor amendments. Senator Stevens offered an amendment which was referred with the bill, providing that the commission should be elected rather than appointed and that the powers conferred upon the proposed commission should be reposed in the present railroad commissioner until the commissioner should be elected and organized. Senator Rummel, social democratic member from Milwaukee, offered an amendment to the effect that the commission be appointive, but that no person should be appointed who may be peculiarly interested in any railroad. The bill will be speedily reported back from the committee and is the special order for Thursday morning. The senate passed the bill to require the insurance commissioner to examine the companies not less frequently than once in four years, and providing for his compensation therefor. The bill is to obviate such incidents in the future as arose when Commissioner Host examined the Prudential and collected $21,000 for expenses, the company charging extortion. Senator Stoddard's automobile registering bill was opposed in a speech by Senator Rogers and was referred to the judiciary committee. The senate laid over some important bills, including the measures to pay R. M. Bashford and John Barnes for services as attorneys in the republican factional litigation, and to pay Senator Roehr for acting as attorney for Commissioner Host in the equitable case. # ENGLAND QUIETS ITS ALLY JAPAN, WITH PROMISES

Keep Cool, Is The Advice Of England To The Mikado's Officials Regarding France.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.] London, May 16.—At the foreign office it is asserted that Foreign Secretary Lansdowne has made no further representation to the French government regarding the continued stay of the Russian Pacific fleet in Coochin-China waters.

No alarm is felt in government circles here that Japan will permit her protests to go so far as to produce a rupture of peace; but it is fully recognized that Japan has the power to bring her ally into conflict by a hostile act. Therefore the British government is using every effort to keep the Japanese cool and at the same time urging upon France the necessity of respecting neutrality. Minister Hayashi characterized as absurd the French charges that Japan intended ultimately to attempt to annex Coochin-China.

St. Petersburg, May 16.—A naval battle within a few days is regarded as likely in well informed naval circles. It is stated that Rojestvensky and Nebogatoff joined forces May 10. ## CALLS HALT ON ILLEGAL SHIFT

STREET REPAIRS MUST NOT BE PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS

SAYS MAYOR HUTCHINSON

Move to Brick Milwaukee Street Hill
Fails to Secure Majority - Matters Affecting Various Highways.

Last night the measure providing for the paving of East Milwaukee street from the east side of Division to the east side of East street with brick, at the expense of the real estate to be benefited, was turned down by the city council. Aldermen Baumann, Brockhaus, Hager, Jackson, and Sheridan voted in favor of the project and Aldermen Connell, Dulin, Fish, Murray, and Morrill against it. The mayor declared a two-thirds vote necessary to carry and the order was therefore lost. Petitions were filed against the move by Mrs. Martha H. Brownell and twelve other property-holders and by Joseph C. Rosenthal and thirteen others directly interested in heavy teaming. The grade was declared to be too steep by both bodies of petitioners.

Illegal Repair Work
Mayor J. F. Hutchinson in a communication called the attention of the council to certain illegal work in repairing the streets, some of which had been already done and more of which he understood was contemplated. While it was not the desire to abandon the use of crushed stone on the streets for repair work, no more permanent street improvements should be made at the expense of the ward funds. Since 1894 the city had paved and macadamized streets at a total expense of $99,176.17, the entire cost of which, excepting intersections and portions of the highways in front of public grounds, had been paid for by assessments against the property along the streets improved. The general and ward funds had been levied upon only for the portions named above as exceptions.

Any Deviation Unfair
The city was now under contract for $18,648.75 in street improvements. As it had been the policy for so many years to do this work by special assessments and such a large sum of money had been paid by property-owners in this manner, aside from any legal question involved, it would seem to be an unfair discrimination in taxation for the common council to make improvements in the way of paving or macadamizing on one street by special assessments and upon another by levying on the ward fund. His Honor was informed and advised that there was a broad distinction between making permanent improvements upon a street and repairing the same. However the common council might describe the work ordered, the substitution of a new and different kind of pavement from that existing on a street constituted more than repairs. It was a permanent improvement and to designate it otherwise was merely an evasion.

Wanted "Repair" Defined
In order that there might be no uncertainty in the future, that members of the council might know what was intended by the word "repair" when voting, he recommended and advised a resolution defining the word "repair" to be adopted and that further street improvements at the expense of the ward funds be discontinued. The communication came as a surprise to many of the aldermen and doubtless altered some of the plans they had under consideration. It was received and placed on file.

To Superintendent Crusher
Chairman Murray of the highway committee reported that Charles Potter had been appointed superintendent of the stone-crushing plant. Proposals for sprinkling the streets had been received from C. J. Murphy and William Booz, and accepted. The firm of Tyler & Snyder had offered the most favorable bid for building the cement walks in front of the four school properties and by an order the contract was let to them. The report of the assistant street commissioner on new sidewalks needed was accepted and notices ordered served. Chairman Baumann of the committee on sewers reported that $72.50 from the general fund and $369.80 from the fund of sewer district No. 11 was due, after withholding 25 per cent, for work which the contractors had completed there and the city clerk was instructed to draw an order for the amount. The city engineer was authorized by an order to employ one engineer at $100 a month and a helper at $2 a day to assist in the prosecution of the sewer work.

Sidewalks and Grades
Property-holders on the south side of Olive street were given permission to construct a 4 1/2-foot walk in front of their premises with the inner margin located six inches from the property line. Linden avenue residents were allowed to build a 4-foot walk, inside line a foot from the lot line. Owners of property on the north side of Galena, the north side of School, and the south side of School streets were given permission to build four-foot walks. The city engineer was instructed to prepare sidewalk grades.

for the east side of Terrace street from Pleasant to Wall, the north side of South Second from Division to Wisconsin, the east side of Division from South First to South Second, and the north side of Court from Bluff to Division. Brick crosswalks were ordered on North street on the west side of Center avenue, on Terrace on the south side of Bluff, on Pearl on the north side of Bluff, on the north side of Court street across North Bluff. The crossing on the south side of Oakland avenue across South Bluff was ordered repaired. By an order the city engineer was instructed to draw plans for cement walks on the south side of the public library and in front of the third ward voting booth on Racine street. He was also instructed to prepare a grade for Bluff street from South First to South Second street.

Repairs and Drains
William Ford was granted permission to occupy a portion of South Jackson street in front of lot 46 Deau addition, driving building operations. It was directed that the curb line on Locust street should be established and filed with the city clerk. Repairs and a 12-inch tile and gutter were ordered for the alley east of the Millard Calkins place. Repairs were likewise ordered for sections of McKee boulevard, Western avenue south, and the Beloit road; also, for the macadam on South Main street from Racine to Carlington street. Specifications for lateral sewers and drains on Milwaukee avenue on the east side of Division and the east side of East street were ordered and the street assessment committee was authorized to receive bids for the construction of a temporary storm sewer on Center street between River street and the river.

A HISTORY OF THE GREAT FRATERNITY

How the Modern Woodmen of America Was Organized and Grew to Immense Proportions.

The first camp of the Modern Woodmen of America was organized January 5, 1883, with twenty-two members. In April, 1895, twenty-two years later, there were 11,000 local camps, with a total membership of 744,000. The total insurance in force amounts to $1,200,000,000. Since January 5, 1883, nearly $45,000,000 have been paid out to beneficiaries. This has been the history of one of the greatest fraternal organizations the world has ever known. It will hold its national convention at Milwaukee in the third week of June.

Gain Better Than Average
In the United States there are now more than 8,500,000 members of secret and fraternal beneficiary societies. During the year 1904, the average gain in membership made by 100 of the leading societies, was 19 per cent. The gain made by the Woodmen was 23 per cent and 1500 new Woodmen camps were organized. J. C. Root, now sovereign commander of the Woodmen of the World, is due the honor of being the organizer of the Modern Woodmen of America. Mr. Root was a resident of Lyons, Ia., and the inspiration for naming the new society he organized, the Modern Woodmen of America, was doubtless found in the lumbering industry, of which Lyons, Ia., at that time was a great center. The biggest sawmills on the Mississippi river were located at Lyons in the early 180s. Mr. Root says the name was suggested to him by a sermon preached by Rev. Sidney Crawford of the First Congregational church at Lyons, who spoke of "the woodmen clearing away the forest." The name suggested a useful employment, and sturdy health, vigor and life. The society would be new, and therefore "modern." It was indigenous to the soil, so what could be more appropriate than to add the word "American." This is Mr. Root's explanation, but others have claimed that the name is an adaptation of the "Order of Wood Splitters," a society which existed in France in the seventeenth century. The local lodges were called "yards" and the members, "steels."

Organize First Camp.
In November, 1882, the work of organization was started. The first local camp—Pioneer Camp No. 1—was organized at Lyons on the evening of June 4, 1883, and at the same time a provisional head camp was provided for Mr. Root being named as provisional head camp. The first head camp was held in June, 1883, at Fulton, Ill. A. R. Talbot was elected head consul of the order in June, 1903, succeeding W. A. Northcott, who had been head consul since 1899. Another veteran officer who was continued uninterrupted in the service of the society since 1890 is Maj. C. W. Hawes, the head clerk, or chief secretary. Head Consul Talbot declares the society will have 1,000,000 members within the next few years, and this bids fair to be accomplished at the society's present rate of growth.

ARRIVED IN CITY FIFTY YEARS AGO

COLONEL W. B. BRITTON HERE
HALF A CENTURY TODAY.

FROM PRIVATE TO COLONEL
Wonderful Record of Colonel Britton Seldom Equalled in the Annals of History.

It is fifty years ago today since Col. W. B. Britton and his wife and child landed in Janesville for the first time, having come from New York to Afton by railroad to Janesville by stage. There are but few men in the United States who have had the experience that Col. Britton has had as regards military matters. Existing as a private in what was afterwards Co. G, of the Eighth Wisconsin, in 1861, he served his country for four years and two months and was mustered out a Colonel commanding one of the finest regiments in the Army of the West.

A New Yorker.
Colonel Britton came to Janesville from New York. He was a contractor and builder and hearing of the growing west of Janesville, left his eastern home for the Badger state. Accompanied by his wife and child he traveled for two days and two nights by train, arriving at Afton, where the railroad ended and the stage service began. His first night in Janesville he was quartered at the old American House.

Amusing Incident
An amusing incident occurred just as he was leaving New York. In those days it was customary for every business man to wear a tall hat. Thinking he was going to the wild lands of the west, where hats were unknown, Mr. Britton gave his new hat away and upon arriving here the first man he met, one, and, in fact, seven-tenths of the men here in those early days, had them. It was just as the colonel and his family were leaving New York that a friend came to see them off and said in a mournful voice, "Good-bye, Bill. I suppose in two weeks' time you will be in an Indian's belly." "This was the eastern man's idea of the west."

Quails on Streets
Before coming west Col. Britton had read of a western city council passing an ordinance that no quail should be allowed on the streets. He thought this was a joke and imagined his surprise this morning after his arrival in Janesville seeing a good sized covey of quail parade down the middle of the street in front of the American House and pay no attention to anyone on the sidewalks or passing teams.

Enters the Army
When the Civil war broke out and the call for troops came, Col. Britton was among the first to enlist. When the company which afterwards became Co. G of the famous Eighth regiment elected officers Col. Britton was chosen captain by the unanimous vote. Twice he refused it but the men insisted and he complied with their demands and was commissioned captain. When the orders came to muster in the companies the Janesville company was the first to arrive in Madison and consequently Captain Britton was made senior captain of the regiment.

Old Eau Arrives
When the Eau Claire company arrived they had with them a young eagle which was called Abraham Lincoln. This bird afterwards became famous throughout the civilized world as the great war eagle and during the long marches and battles the Eighth took part in was carried on a shield by one of the soldiers. It is told of him that when the fighting began Old Abe would fly up into the clouds and remain there until after the battle was over and then return to his regiment. He was several times clipped by bullets, but never injured and after the war was carefully cared for until his death at the state capital at Madison. Later he remains were stuffed and were placed in the rotunda of the capitol. Upon the establishment of the G. A. R. memorial rooms they were placed there and were consumed in the fire which destroyed a portion of the capitol building a year ago.

Recognized Him
Col. Britton tells an interesting tale of this eagle and how years after the war he was with a party of friends in the capitol and visited the old eagle and how the bird showed decided symptoms of remembering him by snaking and flapping his wings. The Eighth regiment, of which Col. Britton came out as commanding officer, traveled by boat and train some fourteen thousand nine hundred odd miles during its term of service. It took part in the battles of the western army and the famous Red River expedition, which nearly resulted in the annihilation of General Banks' army. In fact, years after the war Col. Britton met General Kirby Smith, the Confederate leader in these fights, and in conversation with him was told that had it not been for the sixteen corps, of which the Eighth was a part, General Banks' army would have been wiped out.

His Promotions
Col. Britton's first promotion came after the surrender of Holly Springs to the rebels by Col. Murphy, colonel of the regiment, which resulted in his dismissal from the army. After that he rose through the grade of lieutenant colonel to that of colonel. After the war was over Col. Britton returned to Janesville and resumed his business duties. When the state militia was organized he was elected major of the first battalion, afterwards lieutenant colonel when it came to have six companies and colonel when the first regiment was organized. In 1881 he commanded the battalion at the lumbermen's strike at Eau Claire, in which the Janesville company played an important part.

Grand Old Man
Colonel Britton is seventy-seven years of age. Except for a slight deafness, resulting from injuries received from a bursting shell at the siege of Vicksburg, he is hale and hearty. He was born in New Jersey, but removed as a young man to New York city, from which place he came west.

BESTOW HIGH HONOR ON MERRILL CRISSEY

Janesville Boy is One of Seven Juniors Elected to Phi Beta Kappa at University.

Merrill Crissey, one of the Janesville young men attending the state university, has been accorded a very high honor. At the annual election of the Phi Beta Kappa, yesterday, of which were announced yesterday, he was among the seven juniors chosen. This is one of the greatest compliments that can be paid a student for his scholarship, his general ability, for on these scores only can he be eligible for election. There are but fourteen seniors and seven juniors upon whom the membership can be conferred each year and to be chosen when a junior is, therefore, an exceptionally high honor. Mr. Crissey is a graduate of the Janesville high school in the class of 1902 and holds one of the highest and brightest records in scholarship ever attained in that institution. The others selected are: seniors—Daisy M. Allen, Allenville; Willis P. Colburn, Cassville; David A. Crawford, Madison; Edmund C. Harder, Milwaukee; Grover G. Huebner, Manitowish; Leon B. Lamforn, Milwaukee; Karen Larson, Decorah, Iowa; Max Loch, Appleton; Emil Olbrich, Harvard, Ill.; Edwin F. Rathjen, Milwaukee; Rose M. Wagner, Menasha; Agnes Walsh, Milwaukee; Harry E. Wheelock, South Bend, Indiana; and Leta M. Wilson, Boscebel; juniors—Merrill H. Crissey, Janesville; Kate G. Grant, Milwaukee; Victor H. Kalish, Milwaukee; Marion E. Ryan, Wausau; Peter H. Schram, Madison; Lily R. Taylor, Madison; Martha L. Washburn, Sturgeon Bay.

Much Provisions.
Forenough and Sells Brothers employ over one thousand men, women and children. To feed this great company of people requires a daily average of one thousand pounds of bread, one thousand and one hundred and fifty pounds of meat, five hundred gallons of coffee and everything else in proportion. These supplies as well as fifteen tons of hay, four hundred and thirty bushels of oats and sixty-five bushels of corn, for the horses, have to be secured daily in the city where the show is exhibited.

NOT TO HELP BREAK TEAMSTERS' STRIKE

Report That Janesville Boys Will Go to Chicago Proves Erroneous.

The report that Louis Henke and Robin Bolstord, United States Express company drivers, were to go to Chicago to act as strike-breakers, is incorrect. The story originated from a joking conversation and the Gazette published it in good faith, believing it came from reliable authority. Both the boys will remain in Janesville.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because of its deceptive nature. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure, etc. It is the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and seething pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery, free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY.

The tenth annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers, is now in session at Atlanta, Ga. President D. M. Parry delivered the opening address, in which he pointed out the socialistic tendencies of the age and the attending dangers. He advocated the necessity by appreciating more fully the responsibility of individual citizenship and said in part:

"Since the socialistic tendency is to be attributed to ignorance rather than dishonesty on the part of many voters, the problem of protecting individualism resolves itself down to a problem of educating the voting masses. Many Americans, in reply to Macaulay's prophecy, will declare that its fulfillment is impossible because the people of this country are, generally speaking, far more intelligent than the people of other countries, and that the democracy in the establishment of a great common school system has amply provided for its own protection. But existing facts demonstrate that the common school system is not a sufficient guarantee of the perpetuation of liberty. The reason for this is apparent. The common schools do not solve public questions. These questions reach their solution only through the conflict of argument and interests. The general public in a democracy is by necessity a jury ready to hear and weigh the arguments pro and con on propositions affecting public policy. Though the standard of intelligence be high, yet it is folly to expect the right side of an issue to be victorious if those who advocate the wrong are permitted largely to monopolize the ear of the jury. Hence the conclusion that in order to keep the American public in the straight and narrow path of political rectitude it requires not only a great common school system, but also the untiring and ceaseless efforts of the substantial and law-abiding citizenship in behalf of good government and the maintenance of American institutions.

"The busy man in industrial life is as a general rule inclined to let public affairs take care of themselves. Frequently he is disposed to regard them as not worthy his attention, and often he looks upon 'men in politics' somewhat disparagingly. This attitude cannot be justified by a proper sense of public duty. The American citizen who is law-abiding and attends to his own business is so independent of his government that, except when election day comes around, he hardly realizes that it exists. Out of habit he votes, but as for any real participation in political affairs he usually will have none of it. Our government is founded largely on the theory that it should be a good policeman, but not much more. But for the reason that under it we enjoy such freedom should we be the more zealous to see that it continues to be a good policeman and does not become something else. Because the law-abiding elements, busy with their own affairs, leave politics to others who perhaps are not quite so busy, the government in many of our communities has become a protector of vice and a machine for graft as well as being a policeman. And if these same law-abiding elements and busy men of affairs do not wish to see the government also blossom out into a paternalistic meddler in private business the sooner they can devise methods whereby they can wield at least a part of their proper share of influence in public matters the better. What we need is less politics in business and more business in politics. It is sheer folly to leave the discussion of public questions to the demagogue and agitator alone. The substantial and busy elements of our citizenship may not desire to hold public office, but they should at least for the protection of the best interests of the nation participate in the work of molding public opinion and shaping government policies."

Mr. Parry struck the keynote of the situation when he said, "What we need is less politics in business, and more business in politics." Bad government is the result of indifference and neglect on the part of people who are the mostly vitally interested.

THE CHINESE BOYCOTT.
The Chinese government has officially decided to boycott all American goods and agents have been sent to trade guilds throughout the country to see that the order is enforced. This action was brought about through the indignation felt towards America, on account of the nation's immigration restriction laws. China does not ask for colonization privileges but she does ask that the exclusion act be so amended that respectable Chinamen may visit the country under the same conditions governing other foreign travelers.

This is not an unreasonable demand and the government will do well to make concessions. It has always seemed like burlesque to send American missionaries to China to teach the doctrines of Christianity, when the nation they represent treat Chinese subjects worse than outcasts. The missionary work should be done in Washington, so far as China is concerned. The American people need converting more than the Chinese. It matters not how zealous the missionary or how much sacrifice he is willing to make, so long as the gates of Castle Garden are closed to these people, just so long will the work of the missionary be handicapped.

Patent medicine and anti-advertising bills showed the animus of the medical men at the press of the state. Medicine is a great and grand profession but doctors should not try to dictate to the rest of the professions how they shall run their business. The doctors' bill relative to advertising and the just bill for such procedure, both came before the legislature for consideration this week.

Special attention is called to the "Kickers' Column." This column appears each Wednesday and is open to all. The Gazette reserves the right to edit copy and asks that all communications be signed by the writer's name as well as the assumed nom de plume. The writer's name will not be made public.

It is expected that the legislature will pass the rate bill and that the governor will resign and so leave the field clear to the aspirants for office next year. But the governor does not always do as he is expected and some of the aspirants may be fooled yet.

The fight against the Rock County Sugar Company which was inaugurated during the past winter has vanished and this fall over six thousand acres of beets will be delivered at the factory to be turned into white sugar for the trade.

An anti-spitting ordinance properly enforced would be a good thing. There are a lot of young fellows who stand around night and make hors d'oeuvres of themselves who would come under this proposed law to a nicety.

Horse-traders are beginning their rounds and the bony skinny animals that they are selling look as though they needed a short trip to the "knackers" rather than good hard work for the next six months.

The Milwaukee Free Press asks why eastern politicians should select the Wisconsin men who are to be appointed to foreign offices. Well said, Mr. Free Press. Why should they?

The democrats figure that they will control the congress to be elected in 1906. The democrats, that is some of them, figured the same way about the last election and were fooled.

The Milwaukee Free Press claims that the present legislature is free from "Boosism." The Free Press evidently takes their correspondent's word for it and does not make personal investigations.

PRESS COMMENT.

Madison Democrat: The badger track team and baseball nine should toss a coin to see which is the worse, and then disband.

Atchinson Globe: We hate to say it, but having a sweetheart is counted by a man's employers among the bad habits.

Appleton Crescent: There are ten bankers in the Ohio penitentiary. The only regret that their depositors have is that they did not get there sooner.

Richland Center Observer: The postoffice declares that all "guessing" contents are gambling, but it continues to send out the weather bureau predictions.

Exchange: A factional controversy has broken out in the Racine school board on the alleged action of the committee on teachers in appointing the best instructors to the south side.

Milwaukee News: Now that Uncle Ike has put a holdup man to route, maybe he'll do a few things to the burco boys when they come around with a new scheme for getting revenge and boosting "Bob."

St. Louis Globe Democrat: Caleb Powers, who has been tried in Kentucky three times by twelve Democrats, asks for a nonpartisan jury. It seems to be a reasonable request.

Rockford Register Gazette: "Back of the city stands the state and back of the state stands the nation," is the Rooseveltian phrase which has broken the backbone of the teamsters' strike in Chicago.

Superior Telegram: There appears to be no longer any necessity for concealing the fact that the Wisconsin Central is building the road from Ladysmith to Superior, and is behind the Lake Superior & Southeastern company. The Wisconsin Central people admit the soft impeachment.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Poulney Bigelow, now in Australia, says of the Philippines, "The American nation put all the sweeping of political life in office and then wondered why the natives did not like them." That would be very wrong—only Mr. Bigelow lies.

Chicago Inter Ocean: The argument that in the event of the adoption of the hoop skirt and the return of the bicycle craze the ladies who might wish to cling to one while riding the other would be embarrassed counts for nothing. When the bicycle is in style nothing embarrasses the ladies.

New York Telegram: Ordinary black ink has just been discovered to be a sovereign remedy for scalds. It bids fair to become a cure-all, as it has long been known both as a powerful irritant, a first-class sedative for the removal of freckles from reputations, while as a boosting tonic it stands unrivaled.

Madison Journal: It is said that the cigarette people will put out for Wisconsin a "cigar" which will be a wrapper in thin leaf of tobacco, instead of paper. The new cigarette is of the same size and labeled as of old. In size they are exactly of the same dimensions of the paper wrapped variety and come in a box having exactly the same size, appearance, and label, with the exception that the word "cigars" is substituted for cigarettes.

Fond du lac Commonwealth: Senator Hagemeister, according to an interview granted The Commonwealth special representative Friday, is of the opinion that the legislature will remain in session till June 10, and perhaps longer. This will make the session extend over a period of more than five months, and the assemblymen and senators will get less than $100 a month for their services. Here is where the state employee with a $5 a day job has the advantage.

Ran Claire Leader: State Senator McGillivray is one of those windmill sort of fellows, who revolves easily in any gust of wind. At present he is enjoying himself abusing the capitol commission (composed of men at least as well thought of as the senator himself). He shouts the capitol commission has "been bamboozling the legislature all winter and could not find a henhouse to keep a hen in." As the governor was one of the commission, it is a trifle hard to think of him being unable to protect the hen. We know he got all the eggs.

La Crosse Chronicle: No man's education can be complete without a course in baseball English. Without it none could have any just appreciation of the possibilities of the language. In the rest of the newspaper the language runs in the same old rut. The best of it is weighed and measured and assailed and ornamented until it sometimes becomes unpleasant to the eye and ear. The baseball man is not so circumscribed. It is his delight to find some new method of expression. The more surprising it is the better he and his readers like it. He is the pioneer of English and the effete grammarians follow. He is the only man among us who has the courage to give precedence to originality of expression.

La Crosse Leader Press: The results of the experiment in tobacco raising, carried on during the past two years by the University Wisconsin Experiment Station indicate great possibilities in the way of improving the quality of Wisconsin tobacco. Since Wisconsin is one of the leading tobacco growing states in the union and is annually producing a crop estimated at over $4,000,000, successful efforts to improve this tobacco product will prove of great value to the state. For nearly half a century this industry has been developing slowly but steadily, practically without state aid. While great progress has been made by the individual grower in producing high grade tobacco, there has been a number of unsolved problems which vitally concern the future of tobacco growing in this state. It was with the purpose of investigating these problems that the state university experiment station was granted by the last legislature, $3,000 for two years, and with this appropriation has been conducting the investigations, the first results of which are now being published.

PLAY BALL.

The upper ten now consists of the winning time and the umpire.

Baseball players are always looking around for a change of base.

If it wasn't for baseball cranks the players would soon cease to go round.

In winter baseball players swap lies about what they didn't do in summer.

In a game of baseball two nines are usually matched to play against one umpire.

There is as much kicking in baseball as there is in football, only it's different.

A baseball player isn't necessarily insane because he gets off his base occasionally.

This is the season when the office boy has a mania for attending funerals—of umpires.

It is a popular belief among baseball players that a home run in time saves the nine.

The baseball season now being on, the wise pitcher has ceased to enact the role of "growler."

One hundred years ago not a single game of baseball had been played in the United States. Now look at us.

Old Noah was evidently a ball tosser; the Good Book says he pitched the ark without and within—then the game was called on account of rain.

Milton College, 12: Platteville, 2.

On Friday afternoon the College team defeated Platteville Normal by a score of twelve to two. The Platteville nine came here expecting to defeat Milton, as they had not lost a game this season and had shut out a team the week before. As soon as they stepped up to bat, however, it became evident that they could not connect at all with Place, the College pitcher, and sixteen men had three strikes called on them during the game. Three of them tried to get the initial bag on catcher's dropped ball, but were unable to run it out in time. Bainbridge of Platteville struck out only four. Other features of the game were Milton's batting, thirteen hits, and their base running. Place held Platteville to three hits and these did not earn runs. Good pitching, fine support and timely hitting won the game for Milton. "N."
